METHODOLOGY

This report documents civilian casualties, destruction of hospitals/dispensaries, schools and religious buildings due to airstrikes conducted by the military junta. The data presented herein has been meticulously compiled from a comprehensive array of 43 reputable news outlets, alongside official announcements from various revolutionary organizations.

The airstrike is defined as a military attack using fighter jets or helicopters, involving the use of bombs, missiles or machine gun fire. The incidents of airstrikes mentioned in the report are calculated based on the number of places where airstrikes are carried out. One incident is counted if the airstrikes are conducted in one location on the same day. In cases where airstrikes occur in two different places on the same day, each incident is accurately accounted for as an individual event. However, if airstrikes occur in two or more nearby location by the same aircrafts at the same time, it will be counted as one incident. If the frequency of airstrikes for an incident is not explicitly stated in the press releases of the revolutionary organizations or the media news, the frequency number of airstrikes for that incident is counted as one time. When counting hospitals/dispensaries, schools and religious buildings, multiple buildings within one compound are counted as one.

As data are collected from 43 reputable news outlets, the number on the ground might be higher than the reported digits. This report excludes unverified airstrike incidents and casualties, which will be included in future reports once verified.
